RODEO AUSTIN HOSTS OPEN AND YOUTH TEXAS LONGHORN SHOW

Austin, Texas, March 12, 2016 – Home to the University of Texas, Austin is widely known for its love of Longhorns. Yesterday, Longhorns took over the Animal Science Center at Rodeo Austin for the Open and Youth Texas Longhorn Show, which includes haltered and non-haltered divisions.

Bronson Baker, a junior from Brenham, Texas, was a popular contender. He and Eli, his steer, won Reserve Grand Champion Steer and Senior Showmanship Champion. Next year, he and Eli will be moving on to the Open Non-Haltered division.

“Next year we are excited to move in to the non-haltered show ring,” Baker said. “We’re really looking forward to going up against those big steers and showing them what we’ve got.”

Braker hopes to attend Texas A&M University and join their Nursing school in the future.

Rodeo Austin will continue the livestock show through March 26, 2016.

Bronson Baker and his Longhorn, Eli, win Senior Reserve Grand Champion Steer at the Open and Youth Texas Longhorn Show.
